

Joint Pacific Alaska Range Complex Logo Significance

The JPARC logo has a meaningful significance:

- Purple represents the joint aspect of the JPARC
- Five stripes on either side represent the five U.S. military Services that train in the JPARC:
 - Army
 - Air Force
 - Navy
 - Marine Corps
 - Coast Guard
- Three silver stars depict the three-star command that serves as the executive agent of the JPARC.
- The arrow represents action and the forward moving efforts of the JPARC to meet the needs of future training.
- The gold bands represent tactical and operational excellence.
- The hexagon pattern symbolizes a game board, representing force on force engagement in live, virtual and constructive training venues.
- The blue background and global watermark represent the strategic importance of the state of Alaska to the nation and also to the rest of the world.
